

Hi Lynn

Zimbabwe is an absolute nightmare I'm afraid - 2002 x 10! The brutality is unimaginable. It is most fortunate that animals can't vote which has generally saved them from being victimised.

I will get Glynis (Chief Inspector) to contact you directly. She is working on developing the curriculum with the Ministry of Education, using your books to illustrate how animal welfare can be used as part of everyday learning, be it the development of language skills, comprehension, etc. It will be good for both of you to keep in touch as this develops. Sadly, with the current political unrest and upheaval in government this may take a bit prodding to get going.

Meet Kimba (attached) an orphaned baby elephant that was rescued by the team.

Take care

Love
